

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

Gov. Fowle is busily engaged now on his message to the legislature.

Raleigh capitalists are making some pretty heavy investments in Farmville, Va.

J. F. Woodward, of Wilson, was yesterday appointed a notary public by the Governor.

The chamber of commerce meets to-night. How many members will note the fact and be there?

The latest census of this State, it is said will embrace about 900,000 women. Lord! don't we wish we were a census.

The cases of assault and trespass in the matter of Larkin Smith against Chas. Smith have been set for a hearing next Friday.

Yesterday a lad named Utley had the misfortune to have his hand and arm very badly crushed by some of the machinery at the cotton-mill. He is an employee of the factory.

Look out for good seats for the grand musical festival at Metropolitan hall next Friday night. The box sheet is open at A. Williams & Co's book store. Reserved seats $1.50.

The trustees of Blackwell's Durham Bank have declared another dividend of 10 per cent., making altogether one hundred cents on the dollar. The dividend is payable on and after next Friday.

"Peg Leg" Williams has been in Raleigh within the past few days looking around. He says he will start the exodus movement among the colored people again, and there is no limit to the number he wants.

Mr. J. S. Carr seems to be in demand everywhere. He has just been elected president of a large company organized to develop the coal fields and mineral lands of Farmville, Va. The company has a capital of $1,000,000.

The State Auditor will send out the pension warrants to the different registers of deeds on the 30th inst. who, under the new law, will deliver them to the pensioners. The entire amount for distribution, this year, is about $31,000.

In thanking those who helped in the Chrysanthemum show, thanks were due to Dr. Henry through Mr. J. M. Broughton for the use of the hall, instead of to Mr. Frank Stronach. Thanks are also due to Mr. Hallett for all ice used during the entire show.

There is immense fishing sport at Morehead. The New Bern Journal says: Mr. George N. Ives came up from Morehead yesterday and reports the fishing with hook and line the best ever known. He had two sharpies out Friday with three and four lines, and they brought in 1,000 first-rate trout.

The preliminary services for the proposed series of meetings to be conducted in the First Presbyterian church were held last night in the lecture room. Services will be held again to-night. The public is cordially invited to attend. Rev. Mr. Maxwell, assistant evangelist of Synod, is expected to arrive to-day.

Something like organized effort ought to be made now for relieving the poor during the coming winter. Attention has been directed to two or three cases of distress during the past few days. The Kings' Daughters organization in this city is doing a noble work in the way of relieving distress.

Look out to-day for the beautiful lithographs of the Innes Thirteenth Regiment Band of New York. It will be here next Friday. It is acme of all traveling musical organizations in this country, and its appearance here will be greatest musical event in the history of Raleigh. It has been brought here at great pains and expense.

THE ALLIANCE.

Meeting of the Executive Committee To-day.

To-day the executive committee of the State Farmers' Alliance meet here. The members of the committee are Congressman-elect S. B. Alexander, chairman; Mr. J. M. Mewborne, of Lenoir; and Mr. J. S. Johnson, of Rockingham.

They meet to examine the books and accounts of the state business agent, the state secretary and the State Alliance treasurer, all of whose offices are located in this city.

This work is nothing easy, by any means. The volume of business and correspondence carried on by the officers of the Alliance is tremendous. Some idea of it may be formed when it is stated that the books of the state agent show a business for the past year of nearly $325,000.

Grand Charity Ball.

The greatest event of this season will be the grand charity ball to be given at the Yarrowhouse House Thanksgiving night for the benefit of St. John's Hospital.

There is an incomplete list of ladies in the hands of Mr. Engar Haywood, at Alfred Williams & Co's., and it is hoped that engagements will be made as early as possible.

Tickets will be on sale to-morrow morning at A. Williams & Co's.

A unique feature of this ball will be the calico dresses worn by the fair participants.

The list of patronesses will be published to-morrow. The price of admission will be $2 for gentlemen and lady, and $1 for extra ladies.

Entertainment.

The young ladies of Neuse will give an entertainment Tuesday night, November 18th. All who may attend will no doubt spend a most delightful evening. Oysters, turkeys, fruits, and indeed almost everything in the line of eatables will be served.

Weather Report.

Raleigh yesterday: Maximum temperature 73; minimum temperature 56; rain-fall, .01.

THE WILLIE DAVIS FUND.

There was one response to the CHRONICLE's appeal in favor of Willie Davis yesterday. The subscriptions now are:

STATE CHRONICLE $5.00

MR. WALTER JEFFREYS 3.00

MR. HERBERT W. JACKSON, 5.00

Will any more respond? People of Raleigh, here is a man in jail under sentence of death. His life may be saved if his friends and relatives will raise $125.00 to pay the cost of an appeal to the Supreme Court. Do you think this is none of your business? Is it none of your business, friend, to give an unfortunate young man a chance for life? Would it be anybody's business to give you a chance for life if you were in jail under sentence of death, and your only hope was the kindness and consideration of your friends? Don't dodge this matter, man, by saying you know nothing about it. The CHRONICLE will tell you anything about it you want to know. Let more responses come and let Raleigh maintain her reputation as a city that responds to the call of the unfortunate and distressed.

KILLED HIS WIFE.

Because She Threatened to Have His Paramour Arrested.

(By United Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 17.—At Woodlawn, near the city, Henry Saunders yesterday night shot and killed his wife because she threatened to have a woman with whom he was intimate arrested. The woman was his intimate friend.

The shooting occurred and goaded him to the desperate deed. Saunders then fled with his mistress and has not as yet been apprehended.

A Ship Goes Down Drowning People and Cattle.

(By United Press.)

VIENNA, Nov. 17.—Information has been received here that a ship which was conveying laborers to the Olive Harbors on the Island of Prazza, in the Adriatic Sea, capsized in a sudden gale of wind off the coast of Dalmatia. Thirty-eight persons were drowned and hundreds of head of cattle which the vessel was carrying, perished.

AUCTION SALE OF FINE STOCK.

Trotting Bred Hambletonian and Morgan Stallions, Colts and Fillies to be Sold From Fairview Stock Farm.

On November 20th the first sale of thoroughbred and trotting bred stock ever held in Raleigh, will be made by Capt. B. P. Williamson, of Fairview stock farm. The sale will be at the mammoth stables on Morgan street formerly occupied by W. C. McMackin, and will take place rain or shine, as it will be wholly under cover.

Fifteen fine and beautiful trotting-bred horses will be sold at auction without reserve.

Among the horses to be offered are "Chestnut Burr, a four year old gelding; "Rhoda Carr," a beautiful high-strung mare; "Golden Stairs," a rich looking handsome four-year old mare, "Larkspur," 13 years old; "Hamming Bird," a bay mare with a splendid pedigree which may be seen on application; "Wakefield," a seal brown stallion, bred by the late John W. Garrett, of Baltimore; "Skyrocket," "Daybright," standard and registered, and several other very fine horses.

All these horses are of Hambletonian-Morgan breed.

There has not been a time for forty years when the Morgan strain was so popular as it is to-day. Every well posted horseman must have observed that trotters of the Morgan Hambletonian cross are proving among the very best that can be produced. Nelson (2:10 3/4) has this combination. So has Jack (2:12 1/4), Rosalind Wilkes (2:14 1/2), Price Wilkes (2:14 3/4), Pamlico (2:16 3/4), and scores of other first-class ones that might be mentioned.

A catalogue may be had on application to B. B. Williamson, Raleigh, N. C.

ARE YOU GOING?

To the Grand Musical Festival at Metropolitan Hall on Friday Night.

Of course! You can't afford to miss the greatest concert in the history of the city.

The Sarsaparil Daily Times, speaking of the band, says:

"A phenomenal concert! The acme of instrumental execution! Almost a complimentary expression were either said or thought by every one of the large audience as they filed out of the Grand last night after the Innes Band concert; and as we caught the sounds here and there of these enthusiastic exclamations we wished for the voice of Mme. Annie Jaynes that we might have intoned 'A Great Amen,' as this talented lady did in her grand singing of Sullivan's ever popular 'Last Chord.'"

Mr. Innes is not a gentleman of one talent only, but of two, since he combines in a high degree those of Virtuoso and music director. Not being able to procure solos up to his standard, as to difficulty, he has set to work like Paganini of old, and written himself a piece entitled "Phenomenal," and we would like to rechristen the only man who can play it with the same name.

Mr. Short's cornet solo was applauded to the echo. "Star of My Heart," sung by Signor Battistini, was received with the greatest warmth. Signora de Oes is a rare soprano and took well.

The Scotch medley, also the American fantasia by the band were highly enjoyable, and several comic pieces not on the programme caused much merriment. The band is composed of forty-three men of exceptional talent, thoroughly educated in their line, and well drilled by an excellent master.

Among the pieces, was 'The Royal Hunt,' a remarkable descriptive composition bringing into use some fine imitations of singing birds, hunting horns and many other inventions. The magnificent overture "Semasamide" was also played.

SUPREME COURT.

The 8th district appeals were argued on yesterday as follows:

State vs. Ritchie; argued by R. H. Battle (representing the Attorney General) for the State.

State vs. Bagwell; argued by Battle for the State and W. M. Robbins for defendant.

Trexler vs. Holler; submitted on printed brief by T. F. Klutz for plaintiff, and Craige and Clement for defendant.

Shaver vs. Hantley; argued by Little & Parsons for defendant.

The appeals from the 9th district will be called next Monday as follows:

State vs. Lewis; Graves vs. Hines; Bryau vs. Hodges; Mitchell vs. Tedder; Simmerlin vs. Cowles; Raper vs. Burton; Cox vs. Pruett; Travers vs. Deaton.

The cases of Townsend and others against the Danville and Mocksville Railroad Company are continued by consent.

Opinions were filed in the following: Puffer vs. Lucas, New Hanover; both appeals dismissed.

Maxton vs. Robeson county; no error.

Tomlinson vs. Sea Coast railroad; no error.

Carden vs. Carden, from Orange; reversed.

State vs. Barker, New Hanover; reversed.

Wadesboro vs. A'kinson, Anson; no error.

Lofin vs. Hines, from Lenoir; no error.

Hawes vs. Blackwell, from Durham; error.

Brown vs. King, from Jones; no error.

State vs. McDuffie, from Moore; no error.

State vs. Manning, from Pitt; error.

Leak vs. Gay, from Richmond; no error as to both appeals.

Walker ex parte, from Robeson; no error.

Died.

Yesterday morning, Nov. 17th, in the city of New York, Mr. Frank E. Patrick, of Richmond, Va. He had gone to New York to have a tumor removed from the brain. He was son-in-law to Maj. A. M. Lewis of this city, and a gentleman of high character and extensive business. He leaves a wife and a large family circle to mourn his death.

SALEM, VIRGINIA.

Great Sale of Lots, December 11th and 12th.

The Salem Improvement Company, the most successful organization of the kind in Virginia, had its first sale of lots December 11th, 1899. Since that time the growth of Salem has been marvelous: 318 houses have been built, about $1,000,000 spent in buildings and improvements, the population nearly doubled, and the business of the postoffice and telegraph office increased five hundred percent. The iron furnace about to go into blast, the factories in operation and actually secured, will employ several thousand hands and increase the doubling of the present population of 4,000 in another year. Negotiations are nearly closed for additional plants to employ several thousand hands. A cotton factory and a woolen mill (nearly completed) that will manufacture its goods into clothing, will employ a large number of females. The early extension of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Roanoke and Southern to Salem will make it an important railway center, and hasten its growth into a large iron, steel and general manufacturing and commercial city. Salem and Roanoke, now rapidly growing together, are destined to be the great industrial center of Virginia.

Salem is the most attractive town in Virginia; and it may well be proud of its surpassingly beautiful location, its healthful climate, its refined society, its fine churches, its excellent schools, and of Roanoke College, one of the leading institutions in Virginia. Attractive as a place of residence, it now offers unusual advantages for manufacturing and general business. No other town in Virginia has ever equaled Salem's record of progress for the last twelve months.

The stage of experiment is passed, and Salem is now firmly established on a solid industrial basis.

The Improvement Company proposes to celebrate the anniversary of its first great sale of lots by offering on December 11th and 12th, at reasonable prices, some of the most valuable lots in that growing city. This property adjoins the old town and is surrounded by the lands of other strong companies. Being inside property, it will continue to increase in value. The Norfolk and Western and the Dummy Line to Roanoke run through it and have their passenger stations on it. The streets have been graded and the town system of water works extended through them. Lots will be offered on College Avenue and other business streets and on the Boulevard Roanoke and other residence avenues. On College Avenue, which has been well macadamized, only brick or stone buildings may be erected. On it, the Hotel Salem, costing nearly $60,000, is under roof, the Improvement Company's bank and office building is nearly ready for occupancy, and a number of large business houses are in course of erection. The avenue is sure to become one of the finest business thoroughfares in Virginia.

The lots to be offered on December 11th and 12th will be sold for one third cash and the balance in one and two years, and the Company will adhere to its policy of placing its lots at such prices as will insure investors large and quick profits. For many a pamphlet of thirty-two pages, and further information those interested should address Mr. J. W. F. Allemon, President, Salem Va.

A Clock Needed.

While visiting the Soldiers' Home on yesterday, and desiring to know the hour, it was inquired of Superintendent Perrell for his clock and it was learned that the Home did not own one. They should by all means have a time piece. One of the enterprising and liberal hearted Jewelers will supply the deficiency to-morrow? Proper acknowledgements of a good striking clock will be made through these columns.

Married.

Near Franklinton, N. C., October 14th, 1890, M. S. Robinson, of Virginia, was happily united in marriage to Miss Cornie, the charming and highly accomplished daughter of Mr. P. C. Person, Rev. Mr. Pell officiating. The bride is universally popular, not only in her county, Franklin, but many others, and carries into her new home the best wishes of her many friends for a long, joyous and prosperous married life.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, November 17.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company in their cotton circular to-night say: The Liverpool market did not seem to appreciate the full force of Saturday's developments in London until this evening, when opening despatches from there showed a decline of from 3 to 4 points, and the market was reported as somewhat demoralized in consequence of tight money and heavy tenders upon the near positions. This market opened at a decline of some 12 points, at which a considerable number of speculative selling orders were executed. The opening, however, marked the lowest of the day, and as soon as it became apparent that the Southern markets were steady and but little changed, despite the decline in Liverpool, an improvement here set in which carried prices back some seven points, and left the closing within five points of last evening.

Receipts at the ports to-day were estimated at 53,000 bales, against 56,112 bales last week, and 30,860 bales last year.

Spot lots closed quiet; middling uplands 9 3/8; sales 334 bales.

Total sales in futures to-day were 115,700 bales.
